

Prime Technology Group, LLC
940 West Valley Rd.
Suite 1500
Wayne, PA 19087
Contact: Shannan Bieler,
US Marketing Manager
E-mail: sbieler@primetgi.com
Phone: 610-205-8794

PRIME LAUNCHES ECDS SYSTEMS

August 18, 2014 (Wayne, PA) – Prime Technology Group, LLC a global, full-service Information Technology consulting company launches eCDS Sytem communication solutions from its Healthcare technology stables.

The electronic system incorporates clinical knowledge management technologies. The eCDS system is an enterprise-class cross-domain solution for concurrent applications, clients, and services. The company focuses on providing the next generation multi-mode, multi-directional communications solutions to power organizations’ communications-enabled business processes.

According to a company spokesman, eCDS Sytem provides benefits in raising productivity levels, increasing operational efficiency that results in overall satisfaction by providing an intelligent link between the front-end and back-end system and targeted audiences.

The spokesman for the Prime Technology Group, LLC says: “This solution will enhance the products and services that we provide for our corporate customers. Implementing the solution will also help us to promote our image and prestige in the IT markets. We want to gain a solid customer base by reaping the strong market share of ECDS.”

James Sloan, Chief Technology Officer of Prime Technology Group adds: “Electronic Clinical Decision Support (eCDS) medical system software figures importantly in the field of clinical knowledge management technologies. Through our potential to maintain clinical processes complete with use of information, from medical diagnosis, analysis results, treatment plans, and investigation we want to drastically change the electronic information management system.”

About Prime Technology Group, LLC

Prime Technology Group, LLC is a CMMi: Maturity Level 3 global software engineering firm offering a wide range of consulting and software development services that help our partners maximize their productivity in a cost-effective and flexible manner. The company markets its services to companies worldwide. With offices in the United States, United Kingdom, Canada, and India, Prime provides local, regional, and global IT strategy and technology solutions to its multi-national clients. The company’s mission is to deliver best-in-class, industry-defining bespoke software solutions that enable superior returns as well as sustainable innovative product advantage for customers worldwide. We equip IT companies with excellent tools and robust technology products - on time and within budget. The company provides holistic methodologies and multi-service delivery capabilities in key industry verticals including IT, Healthcare, Insurance, Life Sciences, Enterprise Solutions, and Banking & Financial services.